

Learning Styles Scoot Results

Directions: count the number of X's on your Scoot Recording Sheet and record the number under each learning style. The learning style with the highest number of X's is most likely your preferred learning style.

Visual
(#s 1-8)

Tactile
(#s 9-18)

Auditory
(#s 19-24)

I am a _____ learner.

Visual: Learns best by looking. Benefits from charts, diagrams, pictures, films, and written directions. Prefers to-do-lists, assignment logs and written notes. Often thinks in pictures, which helps them to remember information.

Tactile: Learns best by touching or movement. Benefits from hands on learning activities such as posters, models, or acting out information. Enjoys doodling or drawing to help them remember information.

Auditory: Learns best by listening. Benefits from directions being read aloud, books on tape, recording information and playing it back. Enjoys participating in discussions and talking things through. Prefers a quiet learning environment