

Background noises
easily distract me from learning.

I am able to tell if sounds match when presented with different pairs of sounds.

I learn to spell by repeating words out
loud rather than
writing words down.

I would rather listen to the teacher give a lesson than read about the information in a textbook.

I like to hum or sing to myself.

I enjoy working with a partner so that I can talk out ideas with another person.
